

MSHA Training & Compliance

Benefits to the employer

- Prepares your employees for working safely in the mining industry
- Keeps your company in compliance with MSHA regulations so that jobs continue operating safely
- Helps avoid fines and penalties
- Provides required training and testing services to save the cost of in-house personnel

Who needs this service

- Companies in the mining, metal-non-metal industries, quarries
- Truck drivers and others who service these operations

Program features

- New Miner training, experienced miner annual refresher training (ART), supervisor training
- Dust monitoring, seismic monitoring, pre & post blast property surveys
- Experienced trainers with the most up to date training materials. Keep your employees interested with specific examples from your worksite.

Cost

- Monthly retainer or by the class, depending on each company's situation. Discounts available for fall training classes.